

For deteriorating conditions of Education system in Pakistan School and College there are following are 7 main key factors:

1. Memorizing [Ratta] culture.
2. Increasing Trend of copy culture in Examination
3. Guess Paper – Important Q&A short cuts to pass an Exam
4. Unlike past, students are not paying respect to Tutors
5. Most Tutors with lesser salaries, less respect from student also not sincere in imparting true education and knowledge.
6. Too many holidays and lesser net education days.
7. No accountability of Teachers for decreasing student passing ratio in examinations.

Resulting, only few students who pass cannot compete in the practical life and to obtain admissions in higher education in professional Educational Institutes for studying Engineering, Medical and Business Education.

Such weak students won't be able to qualify any other competitive exam by just working hard.

COACHING Boon or Bane? Coaching Centers help you study in an organized and focused manner. They employ professional trainers, who train you in such a way that you can easily qualify any competitive exam besides providing you with the relevant study material. Schools can't do that as the method of teaching is completely different. Coaching institutes even conduct regular tests to help you evaluate yourself.

Coaching centers are important as they give special attention and exposure to those students who don't get proper attention in schools. In today's time, it is not possible for every parent to assist their children in their studies but coaching centers provide for a viable alternative. They also help enhance your knowledge and prepare you for various competitive exams.

Coaching institutes are meant to increase and enhance your knowledge but the students of today don't go to the coaching centers for studying or gaining knowledge. But some join coaching centers for fun and enjoyment. The place which was supposed to be an institute of knowledge has turned into a platform for showoff.

If we go by the literal meaning of coaching, it means to help you to develop a growth strategy. Coaching should be provided to those students who are below average and need to improve. Student getting above average marks don't really need any coaching. But going to a coaching institute has become a trend nowadays therefore everyone wants to join a coaching center.

It is very important that before joining any institution, a student must analyze whether the institute is providing such an environment and training which will enable them to crack the competitive exams of their choice.

Several parents are now resorting / switching over to home eCoaching for their children. This form of tuition offers the much-required help and support required to excel in studies and examinations.

- eCoaching is like home schooling. Students who lack behind in school can get help at home from the tutor with different subjects that require assistance.

e-Coaching

- eCoaching offers one to one interaction between the tutor and the student. This undivided attention proves to be beneficial for the students requiring complete focus and attention of the tutors to solve their queries and get their concepts clear.
- eCoaching enable students to ask about their doubts without any hesitation. The personalized attention also helps the tutor to understand the weak areas of the students, offering them the specialized guidance required.
- The best part of eCoaching is parents can monitor the progress of the child and directly remain in touch with the tutor for the feedbacks. The involvement of the parents in their child's studies enables them to directly remain in touch with the tutor and the lessons being taught.
- eCoaching proves highly effective for slow learners.

Group eCoaching

- eCoaching Group Tuition is like a school with classroom teaching having several students. It is even more better than 1 - 1 Tuition as the tutors impart education in the selective subjects to the students and attend to their queries, offering help to them in their concerned areas.
- eCoaching classes are also a good option for bright students or for those who have good grasping power.
- In eCoaching Group Students can also do combined studies. While studying if they face hurdles they can discuss with other students and look for solutions.
- Studying in eCoaching helps to foster co-ordination that proves helpful in school.
- Seeing other students, they might get motivated to study hard and do better in exams. Studying together gives the challenge to compete among each other and score better. A healthy competition is good for excelling in studies.

- There is less monotony here as there are friends to interact with and an atmosphere of congeniality.
- Parents before enrolling their children can enquire about the details of the courses available and also attain the feedback of the tutors from their respective profile available on the website.

Our online Tutors

Our teachers are well qualified with excellent knowledge in Math and Science and other professional subjects. eCoaching selects tutors through a process of interviews, meetings and training sessions to make sure they understand our mission and expectations. Our tutors are friendly and patient, and are mentors too.

Online tutoring requires a teacher who is well qualified, has considerable experience in the educational field, and knows how to interact with students for the best results. eCoaching takes this responsibility seriously and takes great care in the selection of our tutors. We begin the tutor selection with initial interviews to learn about the tutor's experience and to check the background of each candidate. The candidates who pass through the initial stage go on to another level of meetings and interviews with eCoaching directors and administrators. These second stage interviews are highly effective in finding the most professionally equipped tutors available. Following the hiring of our tutors, they are required to participate in a several weeks training session which will assure the tutor has a sound understanding of our mission and our expectations. We provide a more competitive environment than schools. Our education system seriously needs an immediate improvement but till that time Coaching Centers such as ours are an important part of education and no one can deny that.

Our tutors are expected to demonstrate that:

- they can handle all sessions effectively and competently
- they have excellent knowledge of their subject area
- they act in a friendly and patient manner at all times
- they have experience with the technology used in tutoring
- they have a willingness to seek on-going training
- they have knowledge of current teaching strategies & practices
- they possess organizational and efficiency skills
- they have the ability to plan and assess for each student
- they exhibit integrity in interactions with all students

eCoaching's tutors are fun too!

All our teaching staff are qualified and experienced in their respective subjects, but more than teachers, they are mentors. They were specially selected for their kind and caring approach with students. The tutors are based in Pakistan, Middle East, Europe and USA, they are well qualified and experienced, and have excellent English communication skills. They are extensively trained in the curriculum and teaching methodology and in online tutoring.

Our all Tuition sessions are recorded (voice, documents, and annotation) and are available for QA-QC review within 30 days of session taken. These recordings provide another level of safety and security. In addition, our website uses Secure Socket Level (SSL) encryption to ensure secure communication. Further, our website complies with Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) for safety and security. All of these features allow us and you the comfort of knowing eCoaching's Safe and Secure Tutoring for our students. We do maintain strict discipline with no-nonsense during Tutoring hours. Students found misbehaving or uttering foul / insulting language are immediately kicked out of class without any notice and the balance fee paid is forfeited. Therefore, it is Student's responsibility to maintain eCoaching's decorum.

Technology

All tutoring sessions are performed using standard home computer technology. Any personal computer / Laptop (PC or Mac) may be used at home or another location of choice. In addition, a broadband internet connection and a headset with microphone are required.

Our website is hosted in the US on www.BlueHost.com servers. It uses Secure Socket Layer (SSL) 64-bit Security Software encryption technology to ensure secure communication. Industry standard web streaming conferencing tool is used for tutoring sessions. Easy Paisa credit -Debit card payment gateway and or direct Bank Deposit method is used for accepting secure payments from Students prior to starting any class.

Common Myths About Virtual Schools

DEBUNKED

Myth #1

Virtual schools are only for "troubled" students.

Truth #1

Online courses work well with all kinds of students.

While online courses have been proven to work well with at-risk students in urban and rural areas, they work equally well for gifted students looking to get ahead, students looking to recover credits, and students who want to take an entire course load online.

Quality and Security

Student safety and privacy are of utmost importance. eCoaching Privacy Policy is verified by TRUSTe, and eCoaching abides by the Child Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA). All sessions are recorded and can be reviewed by the parent or the student over the next 30 days in concurrence by Admin. Every tutor's session recordings are reviewed periodically by eCoaching Quality Assurance staff, for quality and appropriate behavior.
